Outsource Development, Management and Maintenance of Your IT Infrastructure

As your virtual IT department, we partner with you to create a custom IT solution tailored to meet the unique needs of your organisation managed by the best international professionals.

Creating, deploying, and managing an efficient and secure Information Technology (IT) infrastructure requires a skilled in-depth knowledge of hardware, software, and network security, as well as dedicated experienced resources who can monitor and maintain the end-to-end health of the infrastructure on an ongoing basis. For organisations with small IT departments or no IT department at all, this can be challenging and expensive.

Aphelion eliminates the challenge and reduces the expense by enabling you to off-load the development, management, and maintenance of your IT infrastructure and your network security. With Aphelion you get a fully staffed IT department and all the IT services normally only available to large corporations for a fraction of the cost.

Design IT for the Way You Work

Aphelion's internationally experienced team of experts understands the IT requirements created by the business environment in which small, medium, and large organisations operate. As your virtual IT department we partner with you to create a custom IT solution tailored to meet the unique needs of your organisation. We assess the potential a technology has to offer to make a real impact on your business before we recommend it. And we validate the effectiveness of the managed services, hardware, software, network security systems and solutions we recommend by using them as the foundation of our own business operations.

By off-loading your IT infrastructure challenges to Aphelion, you can easily harness the full power of the most advanced IT systems and solutions available, and improve time-to-service with a custom infrastructure that works the way you work.

Realise the Value IT Should Bring to Your Business

Aphelion's complete portfolio of managed services is built with the industry's most advanced and best-of-breed hardware and software. Our services and solutions are designed to unlock the full potential of your ITs contribution to your business so that you can focus on the needs of your customers rather than on managing your IT infrastructure. Our managed services are designed to help you get the most from your investment in information technology by reducing downtime that can negatively impact business productivity. They maintain the flow of critical business information, and enhance business processes, productivity, and performance.

Customise IT Infrastructure Management with Aphelion

The highest costs you face with your business IT infrastructure are associated with the lost time and productivity created when your IT infrastructure is not working to maximum efficiency. These hidden costs can cripple your business and reduce your competitiveness. Our Support services provide customised, end-to-end infrastructure management, from network consulting to complete help desk technical support for desktop systems and network devices, such as servers, routers, firewalls, switches, and wireless access points.

With Aphelion you get total end-to-end service and support for every element in your network, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. And if something goes wrong, you have only one number to call for immediate access to our team of experts.

Optimise Network Security with Aphelion

Ensuring your network is always operating at top efficiency is only part of the IT puzzle. You must also make sure your organisation's most valuable asset

Our Managed IT services promises to minimise the risks generally associated with IT outsourcing, reduce IT complexity, lower system maintenance and management costs, and significantly improve the value organisations derive from their technology investments.

— the information and data on your network — is always protected from the legions of cyber criminals driven on infiltrating and corrupting business systems.

Aphelion provides tailored, scalable, turnkey, managed security services 24 hours a day, seven days a week. It protects an organisation's network and data with firewalls, content filtering, anti-virus, anti-spam, anti-spyware, data management, heuristic analysis and intrusion prevention systems.

Aphelion ensures your network is always protected from the prying eyes and malicious intent of cyber criminals, from the competition, and even from disgruntled ex-employees.

Simplify Data and Application Management with Aphelion

Of course all that information and the applications that use it must be stored somewhere. And they must be easily accessible by employees, partners, suppliers, and customers whenever they need them, from wherever they are. On-site network attached storage solutions and application servers are costly and, often inefficient options that must be continuously maintained and upgraded to ensure your data is always available and your applications are operating at peak efficiency. A more cost-effective approach is to outsource your data storage and application server requirements.

Aphelion provides centralised hosting and co-location of IT infrastructure and application servers, backed by complete network administration, maintenance, security and reporting that simplifies network, data, and application management.

With Aphelion the daily hassles associated with using and managing advanced IT are eliminated so you can get on with your business.
